One issue that affects production agriculture for the family farm as well as the commercial entities is DOT Regulations and the new ELD (Electronic Logging Device). These regulations are sometimes situational and confusing for producers. Also the ELD is an every costly piece of equipment for smaller producers if they are required to use it.

To better educate our local producers on this complex issue the K-State Research and Extension Boards of Meade and Clark Counties in conjunction with Oklahoma State Extension- Harper County Office present an ELD Mandate Meeting.
